

Working Women Award Isle Of Man

Individual Excellence Award

Women in STEM Leadership Award

OVERVIEW

The Women in STEM Leadership Award recognises a distinguished woman who has made significant contributions to the fields of science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM), while demonstrating outstanding leadership, mentorship, and advocacy. This award honours women who break barriers, inspire future generations, and lead high-impact work in research, innovation, or applied science. These women are not only advancing STEM fields but are also paving the way for equitable representation of women in traditionally male-dominated industries.
